Information from Chuck

When I was collecting prints from the front Thursday night, it seemed several people (perhaps just one) asked what paper I was using, and I told them that I got it from Adarama and that it was named duoBriteMat. Wrongo! I did buy it from Adorama but the name of the paper is "Pro Jet Elite VELVET SMOOTH 250 GSM". It is very nice paper and relatively reasonable price. I buy in 50 sheet boxes and I recall it is about $1.25 per sheet. Very smooth, and very heavy paper, but if you look at Adorama's add, you want to get the "Photo Jet ELITE Velvet Smooth" As I recall, the info on it says it is treated like the watercolor paper in as much as it has a much longer display life than the Glossy/SemiGlossy/Silk papers.
